

STATEMENTS LEGION CHIEF CHALLENGED BY RIVAL SOCIETY

Stormy Session of Committee Holding Hearing This Morn.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, March 3.—Another row occurred today at hearings before the house ways and means committee on soldier relief measures. It came when Edward H. Hale, representing veterans of foreign wars, told the committee that statements made yesterday by Franklin D'Olier, commander of the American Legion, were "erroneous and should be contradicted."

A storm of protest resulted, but Chairman Fordney restored quiet by warning that unless order could be maintained "we will quit these hearings."

After five minutes of wrangling among members, Chairman Fordney ruled that witnesses should not criticize other organizations.

Urges $30 Per Month.

Hale urged passage of a bill authorizing relief to discharged service men at the rate of $30 a month instead of $50 with an additional grant of $100 to those who served overseas. He also favored passage of the Morgan bill, which would give service men the option of selecting homesteads.

"How could the money be raised for this bonus?" asked Representative Kitchin, democrat, North Carolina. "There is a public debt of twenty-six billion dollars now."

Would Tax Incomes.

"Our plan," said Hale, "would be to tax all incomes above $50,000 at the rate of 2 per cent, graduating that until seven per cent would be charged on incomes above $1,000,000. This would provide $200,000,000 according to the internal revenue bureau."

"Some of the alleged economies practiced by this congress are a crime," the witness said, whereupon Mr. Kitchin remarked that "the economies of this republican congress surely are a crime."

Hale said "Lip appreciation and nothing more," had been extended to discharged soldiers.

With 60 Per Cent Silver.

"These men," he declared, "have been turned back to civilian life with sixty pieces of silver and they have been brought face to face with the ingratitude of the republic. The only wonder is that they have stood so long the apathetic attitude of congress."

Members of congress received back pay when they were discharged from the army and returned to the house, adding that all others were equally as deserving as ex-soldier congressmen.

Cleaning House in Newberry Hearing

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 3.—Fifteen more defendants were discharged by Judge Sessions in the Newberry election conspiracy trial today. This left the field at 85 defendants. The fifty count of the indictment was also dismissed. This was the one founded on the federal statute of October 16, 1918.

Judge Sessions took both actions on his own motion. He said that a "very close attention to the prosecution's evidence and a careful study of the evidence" had convinced him that he would be unwarranted in holding the men named for a jury verdict. He directed the clerk to enter a formal verdict of "not guilty" in the fifteen cases.

Judge Sessions denied defense motions for dismissal of counts three and six. He notified James O. Murfin that it would be useless to argue a motion for a directed verdict as to all the defendants, as he would deny it.

CUPID PICKS A JAIL LOCK TO GIVE GIRL TO SOLDIER-HUBBY

(N. E. A. Staff Special.)

Milwaukee, Wis.—It took a prison sentence to bring pretty Alice Orpwood, 19, Chicago society girl, back to the arms of the soldier-husband her parents forced her from.

Miss Orpwood is the daughter of Richard Orpwood, a department manager of the Marshall Field Co. She married Carl Wingstrom, an electrical engineer, before he sailed overseas, two years ago.

While he served the colors, Orpwood had the marriage of his daughter annulled. Then Mrs. Orpwood died. Alice pined for her lover. There was trouble between the father and the daughter and Alice ran away to Milwaukee and became a department store clerk.

Trying to live on the meager salary and tempted, perhaps, by the lack of things of luxury in her Chicago home, she stole $500 worth of finery.

Detected and arrested she turned to Wingstrom in her distress. He came home. A judge's heart was touched. Alice was paroled for three years and given permission to marry.

Wingstrom slipped the same ring on Alice's hand when the judge said the ceremony that he had placed there two years before.

Some difficulty has been experienced in locating members of the police department by telephone, particularly during the night hours when no one would be at the station to answer the calls. To overcome this inconvenience, the public is requested to notify the chief operator at the central office, if an officer is wanted during the late night or early morning hours.

Say Ex-Kaiser Did Not Live Up to His Ancestors' Standard

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Berlin, March 2.—(Delayed)—The fight to deprive the former emperor of his properties and fortune began in earnest today when the motion of the majority socialists of the diet to refer the issue to the national assembly precipitated an acrimonious debate. The majority socialists vied with the independents in denunciation of the former ruler in an effort to defeat the proposed settlement by accomplishing the confiscation of the Hohenzollern possessions. This would be done through constitutional amendment, voting the former emperor a fixed sum for his maintenance.

Deputy Graef, a majority socialist, declared that the ex-ruler had failed to live up to the historic precedents of his race. He had not died at the head of his troops. He chose instead the deputy continued, a midnight flight to Holland where "he now is promenading and sawing wood."

The democrats and the clericals joined in voting for the government's measure providing that the settlement be referred to the committee of judiciary.

The judiciary committee now takes the bill under advisement and conferences are expected to last many weeks.

The motion of the majority socialists providing for action by the national assembly has been temporarily tabled.

FORM ORGANIZATION TO REPRESENT MEN WHO OPERATE FARMS

Bureau, Backed By 700,000 Farmers, Meets in Chicago.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Ill., March 3.—The National Farm Bureau Federation, said to be backed by 700,000 farmers in 28 states, which held its first meeting here today, will represent "The man with his feet in the furrow," J. R. Howard, of Clemans, Iowa, temporary president, said today.

Action was taken to establish a general office in Washington and another in the middle west, Indianapolis and Chicago being among the chief contenders for the latter office.

Plans to secure legislation which will simplify the machinery of marketing and distribution between the farmer and consumer were discussed.

Farmer Misrepresented.

"Heretofore the farmer has been misrepresented by all sorts of organizations and men who were not real farmers," said Mr. Howard. "They have been painted as radicals. I do not believe, for instance, that two per cent of the farmers of this country are in favor of the Plumb plan for control of railroads which they were represented as favoring in the Farmer-Labor congress recently held here."

The purpose of the meeting is to federate the county and state farm bureaus into a solid, national body, according to Mr. Howard.

For Simple Marketing.

"We will aim to secure better agricultural methods to increase production and to secure a direct and simple machinery for the marketing of farm products," he said. "We will encourage laws in this direction. We are planning a system to take a direct referendum vote of the farmers on all public questions so that the federation may truly represent them. This referendum is provided for in the constitution of the federation."

"People are coming to realize that farming is the foundation of all industry. They must come to see that the enormous inflation of other industries at the expense of the farmer will not pay in the long run."

"Pretty nearly all the land in the country, capable of being farmed, is under cultivation now and relief must come by better and more intensive methods."

CAN'T EVADE INCOME TAX; U. S. HAS EYE ON YOUR POCKETBOOK

Washington, D. C., March 3.—Are you married, and do you get a salary or other income that amounts to as much as $2000 per year? Are you single, and do you get as much as $1000 a year?

Then, get busy, for you have only to and including March 15 to make an income tax return to Uncle Sam. If you fail to make a return on time, the penalty is not more than $1000 fine and in addition, 25 per cent of the amount of tax due the government.

And don't think you can dodge the tax and get away with it. Sooner or later your Uncle Sam, in the person of an internal revenue collector, will get you. It may be a long time before the hand of the government will reach you—you may dodge your tax for a year or more—but in the end the collector will find you out and you will pay the penalty.

Perhaps you are not aware that the revenue act requires your employer to report to the government the name and address of every person to whom was paid as much as $1000 in 1919. Your broker has to tell the government all the transactions in which YOU figured, of any size, last year. Uncle Sam has other means of securing information about what YOU get in the way of income that you may not know about. Don't try to dodge! And don't FORGET to file your return.

The income of a minor, if it comes through a guardian or trustee, must be reported by that guardian or trustee.

Your return on March 15 must show income received during 1919—nothing received since Jan. 1, 1920, should be included.

You must make affidavit to your tax return, but this may be made before the internal revenue collector without charges.

The next article will tell what income is exempt from taxation.

PRESIDENT TOOK RIDE IN AUTO TODAY; FIRST OUTING SINCE ILLNESS

Was Recognized and Given Greeting By Many in Capital City.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, March 3.—President Wilson went for a motor ride today, leaving the White House grounds for the first time since he was ordered to bed last October by Rear Admiral Grayson, his physician, "a very sick man."

The president was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, Dr. Grayson, and secret service men and took a spin around the "speedway" along the Potomac.

A closed car was used and the party left through the back gates. Several weeks for the president's reappearance in public were prohibited by the police from taking photographs.

Almost ideal weather prevailed for the president's ride, the day being as balmy as one in late spring, with only a gentle wind stirring. The car was kept closed throughout the trip, however. The president sat in the rear seat with Mrs. Wilson and kept his cap in his hand most of the time.

Borah Greeted Him.

Going through the capital grounds the president passed Senator Borah of Idaho and recognition was simultaneous, both waving their hands and smiling. Throughout the trip Dr. Grayson said, the president was delighted and remarked that he felt like he had been away from Washington for a long time.

Passing the vicinity of a market house, the president, who delights always in reading signs when he is motoring, saw a large sign quoting pork at 35 cents a pound. Although he has given much serious consideration to the high cost of living, the president remarked to Mrs. Wilson "that brings it home to you when you see a big sign like that."

Women Waved at Him.

During the drive the president passed many groups of people who recognized him and he smiled his acknowledgment of their greeting. Quite often women who recognized him waved to him.

Decision to allow the president to go out today was made by Admiral Grayson early this morning. Yesterday the president, anticipating a good day today, suggested that he would like to go riding, and when he renewed his suggestion today Dr. Grayson, acquiesced.

Dr. Grayson said that the president had been much benefited by his trip and that an examination of his blood pressure on his return showed it to be quite normal.

The President, Dr. Grayson said, probably will not go out driving every day for a time. Today's trip was in the nature of a diversion and future outings will be regulated by the weather. There will be no set schedule.

Corn Higher Close of Day's Trading

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, March 3.—Fresh upturns in the price of corn today were associated with more or less with continued scarcity of receipts. Besides attention of traders still focused to a considerable extent on the unusual heavy consumption of corn on farms. Reports were also current that abandonment of interior wheat acreage would be above the average this season. Opening prices which ranged from 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢ advance, with May 1 3/4¢, 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢ and July 1 3/4¢, 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢, were followed by a moderate setback and then by gains all around.

After opening unchanged to 1/2¢ higher, including May at 83¢ to 83 1/2¢, the market sagged, but then rose higher than before.

Provisions were weak as a result of large stocks at western packing centers. Furthermore the export outlook was represented as unpromising.

Realizing sales on the bulls were liberal, especially so from leading recent buyers, who proceeded to believe that a reaction was due. The close was nervous, at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/2¢ higher, with May 1 3/4¢, 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢ and July 1 3/4¢, 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢.

Oils, Motor Stocks Made Gain in Trades

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, March 3.—Oils made additional gains during the morning session of the stock market, especially the Mexican group and motors also improved. There was relative activity in shipings, Marine common and preferred, American International, Atlantic Gulf and United Fruit gaining 1 1/2 to 4 1/2 points. Prominent steels, other than Crucible were barely steady and equipments showed further hesitation. Rails were altogether unresponsive to the acceptance of wage arbitration by the brotherhoods, tending mainly lower. Call loans held at 10 per cent, but call money continued very scarce at recent high bids. Foreign exchange was firm and liberty bonds shaded again.

VOLLEY BALL.

With the exception of the first game, which was slow and listless, the volley ball match in the "Y" tournament last night was a hummer. It took the teams the entire first game to get warmed up but when they got going clog there was something doing. The Sky pilots led off with the first game 15-8 but in the second the Pilirollers came back with a vengeance and walloped the Pilots 15-5, and then the fun began. The third and final game started off with the Sky pilots, getting the best of everything in sight, except argument, and it is a toss up who got the best of this, the Sky pilots, Pilirollers, spectators or the referee. After it had been going on for some time the Pilirollers to look hopeless for the Pilirollers they hit a ninth inning rally and before the Sky pilots could check them they had won 15-13.

CLASS HAD SUPPER—

The Young Men's class of the Methodist church had a delightful social evening at the church last night. An excellent oyster supper was prepared by Miss Newton and Prof. Stearns. The boys did full justice to the good things provided.

After the banquet a short program of song and speech was very much enjoyed. Niles Palmer president of the class was toastmaster. In this capacity he proved himself very efficient. Rev. E. C. Lumsden was the first speaker. C. C. Hintz brought an inspiring message to the class. Prof. Potter of the High school was the principal speaker of the evening. His address was much appreciated. He emphasized the need of feeling the dignity of life even when young. The whole speech was replete with sane idealism.

After this wholesome talk a number of the young men responded to the call of the chair for short addresses. The class voted this one of the most enjoyable events in its history and plans are under way for another in the near future. The committee in charge is to be congratulated.

MEMBER WAS HONORED—

Mrs. James Turner was honored by the members of the Woman's Catholic Order of Foresters of which she has been a most faithful and active member with a farewell reception given last evening at Knights of Columbus hall. Mrs. Turner leaves Dixon the latter part of this week for her new home in Fond du Lac, Wis. The affair was very largely attended and most enjoyable. A delightful program of musical selections and readings was given and refreshments were served by the committee in charge. During the evening Mrs. Turner was presented with two handsome pieces of cut glass.

White, together with the husbands of some of the members were guests of the class.

Carr and daughter, Marion, and Cecile and Jonah Parke. Piano and Victrola music were enjoyed during the evening.

The secret of soft, fluffy woolsens after washing lies in the rinsing.

There is a certain amount of oil in pure wool and only by preserving this small percentage of lanolin is it possible to keep blankets and sweaters in their state of wooliness.

A pure non-alkaline soap thoroughly dissolved and luke-warm water are essentials. A thick, heavy suds for the first wash water and a lighter suds for each succeeding rinsing will insure a successful laundering. Every water should be of the same temperature.

By adding soap to the rinsing waters little of the clean suds is left in the fabric preventing the loss of the animal fat.

BREAKFAST—Uncooked apples, fried corn meal mush, syrup, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Baked macaroni, bran muffins, cold water cookies, tea.
DINNER—Casserole of smoked salmon, spinach, baking powder biscuits, jelly, squash pie, coffee.

A smoked or salted fish makes an agreeable change from the usual fresh fish. Women in the country find a box of salt fish a valuable asset to their emergency shelves. By intensive freshening, as it were, the length of time required to make the fish edible is greatly reduced. It is a mistake to freshen salt fish too long, any way.

BAKED MACARONI

1 cup macaroni
6 cups boiling water
1 tablespoon salt
2 cups canned tomatoes
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon bacon fat
1½ tablespoons flour
6 tablespoons grated cheese
2 cloves
Paprika

Break macaroni in one-inch pieces and cook in the boiling water with salt until tender, about 30 minutes. Drain in a strainer and pour over cold water to blanch and prevent pieces from sticking together. Melt bacon fat, add onion and cook until onion is browned. Stir on flour and add tomatoes. The tomatoes may be strained or not. I use them not. Add the cloves and cook, stirring constantly till the sauce is thick and smooth. Put macaroni into a buttered dish, pour over tomato sauce, sprinkle with grated cheese and add a shaking of paprika. Put in a hot oven for 15 or 20 minutes.

COLD WATER COOKIES

2 cups sugar
½ cup butter
½ cup lard
1 cup cold water
2 teaspoons soda
¼ teaspoon salt
Nutmeg

Melt butter and lard. Stir shortening and sugar together. Dissolve soda in water and add to mixture. Add nutmeg to flour and put in as much flour as can be stirred in. Set aside or 20 or 30 minutes. Add flour to roll. Roll on a floured board, cut and bake in a hot oven.

CASSEROLE OF SMOKED SALMON

1 pound smoked salmon
4 little onions
½ cup canned peas
½ cup cooked carrots
1 tablespoon lemon juice
8 little potatoes
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup milk

Seal salmon. If very salty put through 2 or 3 waters. Cut in pieces to serve and pour over lemon juice. Stir crumbs in melted butter. Put fish in a buttered casserole. Sprinkle lightly with crumbs and add alternate layers of peas, carrots and crumbs with an onion in each layer of vegetables. Add boiling water to cover and bake slowly for three-quarters of

INDIAN TOMTOMS STARTED JAZZ ON ITS SYNCOPATED FLURRY

Princess Claims Credit for Redskins

PRINCESS WHITE DEER.

BY JAMES HENLE.

(N. E. A. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Feb. 27.—Who invented jazz?

"The redskin," says Ken-tio-kwi-osta, better known as Princess White Deer, who is now playing in "Hitchy-Koo," but who is soon to lead an Indian revue of her own on a vaudeville circuit.

The princess insists that it was her people who, with their tomtoms, originated splitting beats to infinitesimals, which is the essence of syncopation. Members of the Omaha tribe, she says, had ears so acute that their musicians could distinguish separate beats down to thirty-seconds, while the lowest that musicians of the Caucasian race have been able to get is to sixteenths.

In arranging her one-hour review Ken-tio-kwi-osta will have the help, it is announced, of the Indian Department and the Bureau of Ethnology.

Princess White Deer is well educated and worked with Prof. Patterson at Columbia University in his elaborate laboratory experiments upon the nature of syncopation.

Chicago, Ill., March 3.—The Chicago Retail Druggists' association will urge "the restriction on liquor sold on prescription be more strictly enforced," it became known today when it was announced officers of the Association left for Washington yesterday to confer with officials to the Internal revenue department.

"Many saloon keepers who have stocks of liquor on hand," A. E. Ormes, editor of the association's paper declared, "are making surreptitious inquiries as to the chances of opening drug stores. They are offering pharmacists and drug clerks higher salaries to work for them in case they open drug stores."

"Their plans patiently are nothing more than to operate camouflage drug stores and makes a business of selling whiskey on prescriptions."

MARRIAGE WRECKS BARK OF LOVE

Vae Lee

Seattle.—It was only the trifle of Warrant Boatwain R. L. Cornell's marriage that wrecked the bark of love that he and Vae Lee launched here. The two were traced to Los Angeles. They traveled on Vae's money—$1700 of it. "I can't love him any more," says Vae. "I don't want to love him any more," declares Mrs. Cornell, so here in the county jail the sailor averred "it isn't worth while."

SPRING POEMS

In a climate of rigorous winters Nature resists to hibernation. The trees stand gaunt and bare in an attitude of defense; for the leaves are gone, and it is the leaves, with all their wonderful extent of surface, that keep the living tree in touch with the life-giving forces beyond it.

Through the leaves the sun and the air
keep up the marvelous chemistry that builds living fibre out of dead chemicals—the living fibre that man so ruthlessly cuts down and burns, to get back for himself the heat that the long, silow, growth of many summers stored in it.

Bears, clad in thick fur, have crawled into pits and sleep beneath the protecting snow, supporting life at a low ebb on the fat that they stored up from the last summer's growth of fruits and roots. The very frogs lie buried in protecting holes. The birds are gone.

But with the long, warm days of spring all this is changed. The sun, the giver of heat and life, has returned. The trees put out new leaves, to come again, in touch with wind and weather. The bear leaves his cave, to bask in the new warmth. Buried creatures dig their way out of their holes. Buried seeds put out green shoots. Birds come back.
Cows go out to grass. Man puts out his fires and leaves the protecting house.

For the constructive, life-giving chemistry of Nature has begun once more. The defensive attitude may be thrown aside. Living creatures are free again to get in touch with all the world.

Then comes that outburst of openness and trust and love and happiness in man and brute that makes people write spring poems.

THEIR VALUE

Husbands are not like pork, ribs, lard, bales of cotton or bushels of wheat. Husbands vary in values. Some are worth more and others are held less highly. There are no exact market quotations on husbands, such as one finds in the produce market, the stock exchange or the board of trade. It is, therefore, rather difficult to answer that New York woman who wants to know:

"How much is a husband worth to any woman?"

But for her benefit a little investigation of the subject will be undertaken. Two news dispatches are under consideration. First:
Woman out in Des Moines, Iowa, offers to dispose of her husband for the trifling sum of $5000. "I don't want him any more, so I sell him," she informed an attorney she asked to complete the sale. And, she had a "buyer" at that price.

That, seemingly, would fix the husband price at $5000. But—

Miss Amy O'Connor has filed suit against Allen Grey, Evansville, Ind. asking for $500,- 000 because, as she alleges, Grey refused to become her husband after promising so to do. Obviously Miss Amy valued a husband like Grey at half million dollars.

Possibly that is the top quotation for husbands in the matrimonial markets.

The range of husband prices, then, appears to hover between $5000 and $500,000.
Before you, being a married man, place your own value at the large figure, please bear this in mind: It was a married woman who set the $5000 mark for husbands, and it was a mere girl, one inexperienced in husband valuations, who placed the price of husbands
at the half-million mark. Possibly a husband is more valuable before you get him. Eh?

HOME-SEEKERS

It is reported that in some cities moving van drivers are being stopped on the streets
by home-hunters who demand to know
by home-hunters who demand to know came from.

Upon receiving the desired information,

they hurry to the vacated house to make first claim on it.

And more than that: Homeless folks are watching the divorce court news in the papers, and homes that are about to be broken up by divorce are besieged in advance by persons eager to move in as soon as the unhappy families move out.

It is a mystery to many that there is shortage of homes today when before the war
there was some sort of a place for everybody to live in. To some extent the shortage can be ascribed to the immigration of country folks into the cities. To a much greater extent it reflects a rising standard of living in the new America.

The new America demands bathtubs and electric lights. It regards fresh air and sunlight as the natural right of every child in every home. It calls for sanitary plumbing and other conditions that makes for good health.
It demands a strip of backyard with every home and a bit of lawn in front. Always honoring its women, it asks for homes so arranged as to free the housewife from the old drudgery.

That is what the great hunt for homes means. It is a crusade for health, for decent living, for wholesome comfort, for cleanliness for better family life.

A Dayton woman charged with killing her

"Deer Teecher, I have got a skeem;
I bet you it's a perfect dream
And that you'll say so, too,
Because its just the Golden Rule
Put into practice in our school,
Like you have always said you'd have us do.

"I hope you'll try it pretty soon.
Just as the bell rings, some forenoon,
Spouse you get up and say,
'Good mornin, childern, roll your hoop;
Get up and beat it; fly the coop;
There ain't a going to be no school today.
'Don't tell us its a holiday,
Or some ones dead and past away;
Give all that talk the can.
Just say it like it was a start
Of nobbel impulse in your heart
You cant resist to free your fellow-man.
To tell them its my nobbel thawt,
But that ud make me sore.
I want them all to think that you Thawt up this skeem so brite and new
No teacher ever thawt of it before,

And bleeve me, but there'll be more fun
Than Doug and Charlie rolled in one
And you know who'll be popular with me!"

That stables should have tight man-

That birth reports are necessary for

That food should be kept covered,

Service, Washington, D. C. Ask for

ANSWERED.

Q.—Will a woman suffering from pellagra transmit the disease to her baby? I have had pellagra for three years.

A.—If you will send your name and address I will be glad to send you our Reprint No. 461, which deals with pellagra. A baby born of a mother who has pellagra may show no unfavorable effects. The mother should, if possible, nurse the baby at the breast, and take particular pains with her diet. She should drink two or three pints of milk a day, and provide herself with a plentiful, mixed diet.

Q.—Do you advise, or consider, that a person in a run-down condition
should take a good tonic, regularly, besides following Public Health Service instructions, to help ward off the influenza germ?

A.—The best way to build up your health is to get plenty of fresh air,
good food, and sunshine, and a sufficient amount of rest and sleep. Any other tonic will probably be unnecessary, unless there is some underlying disease.

Q.—I have always had a few moles,
but in the past year more than a dozen
new ones have come on my face
and neck, and on my arms and body.
Please tell me what to do, as they are getting larger.

A.—In most instances a mole, or even a few moles, are not of serious import, but when they increase rapidly and keep getting larger, the question of malignancy must be carefully considered. It is not uncommon for simple moles to become malignant, that is, to turn into a form of cancer.

Q.—I have been suffering for several years with my head. It often pains severely and feels stopped up.
One doctor told me I have nasal catarrh another said it is sinusitis, and said an operation by a nose and throat specialist would probably relieve me. What shall I do? What is sinusitis?

A.—Sinusitis often accompanies nasal catarrh. It is an inflammation, acute at first, but often becoming chronic, of the hollow bony passages which connect with the nose. Thus the

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

"Quack! quack! quack!" The sound came from a swamp beside the road in Topsy Turvy Land, where Nancy and Nick were trotting along happily, looking for Joe. It was a sorrowful, sad quack, and instantly the twins stopped, anxious to help anything in trouble.

"Where are you?" called Nick, "and what's the matter? What's your name?"

"I was a duck once. I don't know what I am now. Come and look,"
came the answer.

"Why, you're still a duck!" exclaimed Nick, peering through the weeds.
"Only your tail looks queer!"

"Doesn't it, though?" said the duck. "I just caught a glimpse of myself in the water, and I must say I'm a sight. But I got what I wanted. I never had a tail, you know, just a nub that waggled when I walked. And I always admired the black Minorea rooster's tail so, especially when the sun made it all bronze and blue. It seemed I just had to have that tail—or one like it. So one day when the Fairy Queen visited the barnyard and asked if we were all happy, I said I wasn't, and told her why.

"Well," said she, "I can fix that, only you'll have to live in Topsy-Turvy Land. You can't stay here any more. People wouldn't know what kind of a bird you were."

"Just give me what I want," I said, "and I'll live anywhere."

"So she waved her wand and here I came with my new tail feathers! And now I'm not only ugly, but I have no friends and I miss the grubs under the wood pile."

Nancy took a pair of sharp, shiny scissors from her pocket and held them up. "Perhaps I can cut your tail off," she said.

"Oh, will you?" exclaimed the duck, gratefully. And what happened then I'll tell you tomorrow.

Confessions of a Bride

(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

Somewhere in the foothills Certais found his auto. Evidently it had been parked there, waiting to pick him up after his visit to Don Manuel. The chauffeur received his extra passenger with unveiled surprise. He welcomed the elegant and aristocratic Don Manuel as an intimate friend, not as a superior. Remembering the odious Berghoff, butler, junker and international spy, I decided that the chauffeur was not a hired man at all. Like Certais, he was probably descended from a duke and he would, for the sake of obtaining certain Mexican mines, set the pace for the circle of German spies which is said to be trying to embargo Mexico and the United States.

It was midnight when we swept into the long avenue which stretched from the road to the hacienda. The towers of the great rambling abode bathed shone white in the moonlight. The place looked like an ancient castle —a castle of haunted chambers and ogres, of dungeons and fairy queens, and of miraculous pointings which came to life! It was a castle asleep in the moonlight. I wondered as we stopped at the patio if I could be awakened by any magic of my own.

Bob had collapsed more than once on the long ride in the car. His silence—amounting to a stupor—made me tremble with dread. I noticed that Dr. Certeis was watching him carefully but I dared not ask if Bob's fever was rising.

I dared not hear the doctor's answer.
Long before we reached the hacienda I forgot that Bob and I were prisoners, forgot what would have filled me with terror had Certais been an ordinary man, forgot everything but Bob and his need of rest.

As I saw Certais and Don Manuel supporting Bob to a room, it occurred to me that I was going to have very little time to consider my personal danger
—if any existed. It looked to me as if Bob were in danger of life itself. He and I were in the power of a man who loved me! And that man was a traitor to every good thing in the world—except his love for me!

If my husband became dangerously ill—as it appeared he was rapidly becoming—if he came close to the doors of death—could I rely on Dr. Certais to save him?

Certais has the ability to do so, if any man on earth possessed it. Thus I meditated when I was alone in the splendid room I had occupied once before.
I looked hopelessly over the broad window ledge and saw the lights of the north-bound train slow down at the adobe station at the edge of the town. It was carrying free men and women to the States but there was no hope in it for me. And no splendid flying-man was planning to drop out of the skies to rescue me on the morrow. Not a living soul that loved us had an idea of what had become of Bob and me!

Now that I had been caught, I saw that a particularly Hunnish trap had clutched me. Bob and I were not under lock and key and bars like ordinary prisoners. We were, nevertheless, captives. As long as Bob was sick his wife would not wander far from his bedside!

While Certais and the helpers he had summoned bathed Bob and put him to bed, I changed my aviator's breeches and blouse for a fluffy blue chiffon negligee I had left in the room the day of my flight with Baby Babs. Then I hurried to my husband's side.

Bob had lapsed into unconsciousness. But Dr. Certais' eyes widened perceptibly as I appeared in my dainty feminine attire. Then he returned to the study of the still form on the bed.

"You are going to let me nurse by husband?" I pleaded.
"Not yet—not alone," said Certais. "I will watch with you for a while,"
he said gravely as he placed a splendid cushioned chair for me near the head of my husband's bed.

CAR SHORTAGE FACTS.

Facts regarding the existing car shortage on the railroads have been set forth by Senator Kellogg of Minnesota. According to his figures the roads as a whole added 120,000 cars in each of the five years before the war. They retired about 90,000 cars per year, leaving a net annual increase in car supply of about 30,000, and this 30,000 was far short of the needs, but all that the roads were able
at the time to finance.

In the two years and two months
during which the roads have been under control only 100,000 cars have been purchased, while the rate of car retirement was even greater than formerly, due to the tremendous increase in traffic on account of the war. Those cars have been less than half those required to take care of ordinary replacements; in other words, there has been a net decrease of 100,000 cars
during the period of federal control.

Mr. Kellogg charges that instead of getting busy and turning out cars, the railroad administration spent five precious months trying to standardize cars and locomotives. Meanwhile the cost of material went up, shops got busy on other work, and the cars were never forthcoming. What a striking parallel it is between the car situation
and other projects of the administration, such as the airplane program.

Instead of adopting designs of approved efficiency, ready to hand, production was sacrificed in a vain attempt to remodel entire industries.—Moline Dispatch.

"No matter how I fold my feet, I can't git these shoes on," said Miss Myrt Pash, as she returned a pair of shoes today. Flattery won't hurt you if you don't swallow it.

CHRISTIAN JEW TO LECTURE ON SIGNS OF TIMES

Jacob M. Harris and Wife Are Drawing
Big Crowds.

Jacob Moses Harris of Chicago, the converted Jew, delivered his popular lecture "The Signs of the Times in the Light of the Scriptures," before a very large audience at the Grace United Evangelical church last night. This lecture deals with present day conditions, and Mr. Harris declares that the Bible clearly portrays conditions that obtain today as well as tomorrow.

Speaking of the growth of Socialism Mr. Harris said: "God has His own plans for dealing with the evils of capitalism. In the letter of James chapter five and verses one to eight He gives His word of comfort to those of His people who may be suffering therefrom. This passage wonderfully illuminates the present stage of industrialism. That it relates to the end of this present age is certain because it is specifically addressed to those who have heaped up treasures 'in the last days.'"

"A prominent feature of this passage," continued Mr. Harris, "is the fact that a class of rich men is addressed. It is doubtful if such a class ever existed in the history of mankind. There have been rich men of course, but there has been no class of people whose common characteristic was simply that they were rich. There have been aristocrats but in our day there is a distinct class of rich men, a financial group whose bond is simply that of wealth, and it is estimated that the bulk of the wealth of the United States is in the hands of about 250,000 persons. Having been born and reared in New York City I have seen some of these at close range."

Tonight's subject is "God's Plan of the Ages; or, Will the World Come to an End?" This lecture is illustrated by a large chart showing the world movements since the creation. It also shows why Germany could not rule the world, why the late war was not Armageddon, the significance of the fall of Jerusalem and many other points of great interest.

The Grace United Evangelical church is located at East Fellows St. and North Ottawa Avenue, on North Side. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Evening services begin at 7:30.

IMPORTANT TO ALL WOMEN READERS OF THIS PAPER

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased. You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

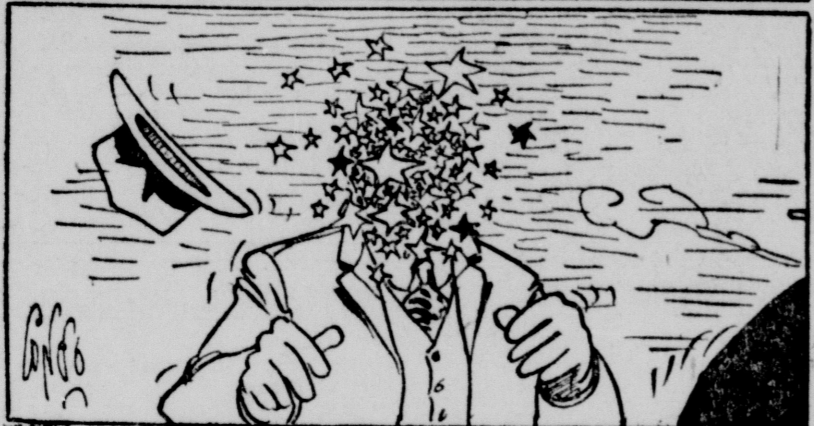

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottle at all drug stores.

Ross Comes Back

Since A. B. Ross told the world last Fall what 35 years of careful official tests have really proved about fertilizers, and announced his startling new 1:2.08-feed-the-plant-not-the-soil principle, he has been vigorously attacked in print and out of it, just as he expected. He has been too busy completing his work to reply, but now in

The Farm Journal

Over 1,050,000 a Month

for March he comes back strong at his critics, taking up their arguments and cheerfully exploding them one by one. The fact of the matter is, Ross has the goods, and every farmer who uses commercial fertilizer, or who uses manure but hasn't enough of it, and every other farmer, on general principles, owes it to himself to find out what 1:2.08 means, and what it means in his business. In The Farm Journal for March, now ready.

In the March issue comes the long-awaited announcement of the Prize Winners in the National Crop Contests—who gets the Cash and Gold Medals—pictures of prize-winning fields and prize winners—how big crops were grown and harvested. Farmhouse Prize Plans

In March also the prize plans for a farmhouse for the Central States with full details.

Collective Bargaining the Farmer's Birthright

Why farmers must have, and how they will get, the unquestioned right to buy and sell collectively; how to prevent glutted markets; why a great national organization is necessary—a splendid new article.

$2,000 from a Worthless Orchard

Here is a spraying article that can easily be worth a dollar a week to another Mr. Nichols who will do what this Mr. Nichols did, right in Iowa.

Potato Growing from A to Z

The big Crop Contest showed up a lot of people who don't know how to grow potatoes.

It surprised us—hence this article that tells how to do it.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED--AND EARNED

BITTER WORDS.
CHAPTER 75.

I saw very little of Mary Ryan save at the shop. She was so busy with Gardner and her English teacher that she seldom was free in the evening, and we missed her dreadfully. I think perhaps Bob missed her bright clever chatter more than I did.

I had not told her anything of Robert's attitude toward finances. In reality, I did not think it would last—therefore, why talk about it? But as the days passed and he adhered to his resolution—although I knew he often was without money by the time the week was over—I became worried, then annoyed and a bit angry. Why couldn't he be sensible?

I hated this running out every night for my dinner. While it had been a change at first, the season was now in full swing, and I was, I was, it was a terrible effort to brace up and run about to restaurants. I never thought the time would come when I would long for Mrs. Lane's dining room. But there were many nights when I could have cried, the longing to go home and eat my dinner was so strong.

I never let Robert know this, however, I had become a bit afraid as to what he might do.

It was the little changes in Robert's attitude toward me that hurt me the most. He never brought me a flower or a box of candy, as he used to do. I knew he had no money, yet I felt aggrieved that he neglected the little attentions that a first never failed to give me. Then, too, he was growing careless in his manner. I realize now that it was absent-mindedness more than anything else. But he failed to recognize the little amenities of social life of which a woman thinks so much.

"Robert, you must not be so careless!" He had stalked into the restaurant ahead of me, then sat down at the table before I had.

"Careless about what?"

"About little things. You used to be so polite, so gallant, and now you act sometimes as if you did not know what was proper at all."

"I am too busy thinking, I guess. Excuse me if I have done some saucy thing."

He didn't even know to what I had referred.

"Thinking about what?"

"Whether to go on working for Burch or commit suicide." Not a glimmer of a smile lightened his sober face.

"What are you talking about?"

Everyone Should
Drink Hot Water
in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach,
liver, and bowel poisons
before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside, no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head, no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or grassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel: like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

BELCHING
Caused by Acid-Stomach

Let EATONIC, the wonderful modern stomach remedy, give you quick relief from disgusting belching, food-repeating, indigestion, bloated, gassy stomach, dyspepsia, heartburn and other stomach miseries. They are all caused by Acid-Stomach from which about nine people out of ten suffer in one way or another. One writes as follows: "Before I used EATONIC, I could not eat a bite without belching it right up, sour and bitter. I have not had a bit of trouble since the first tablet."

Millions are victims of Acid-Stomach without knowing it. They are weak and ailing, have poor digestion, bodies imperfectly nourished although they may eat heartily. Grave disorders are likely to follow if an acid-stomach is neglected. Cirrhosis of the liver, intestinal congestion, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach—these are only a few of the many ailments often caused by Acid-Stomach.

A sufferer from Catarrh of the Stomach of 11 years' standing writes: "I had catarrh of the stomach for 11 long years and I never found anything to do me any good—just temporary relief—until I used EATONIC. It is a wonderful remedy and I do not want to be without it."

If you are not feeling quite right—lack energy and enthusiasm and don't know where to locate the trouble—try EATONIC and see how much better you will feel in every way.

At all drug stores—a big box for 50c and your money back if you are not satisfied.

Red Cross Societies of World in Congress

Geneva, March 2.—Delegates to the congress of Red Cross societies which opens tomorrow, are here and state that plans will be made for the co-operation of National Red Cross societies in thirty countries. During the congress the peace time program of the Red Cross will be discussed, the plan being to relieve suffering and promote human welfare generally. This will be based on a co-ordinated effort to improve public health by controlling and even eliminating such maladies as malaria, tuberculosis and other scourges which have afflicted mankind.

American delegates had an adventure in the snow in the Jura mountains. They came by automobile from Paris and when they reached St. Cergues, France, they were told the pass ahead was clear of snow, but as the party advanced to the French Swiss border the customs officials said the snow was still deep in the mountains and it was impossible to get through. The Americans kept on however, until they encountered a deep drift where the machines were stalled and it looked as if the party would be forced to spend the night in the mountains.

Poster Rockwell, of Phoenix, Ariz., former Yale football champion, now engaged in Red Cross work, had foreseen trouble, however, and had come from Geneva, arranging for relays of horses and shovellers along the road and within an hour the machines were able to move ahead on their own power. They were the first automobiles to pass since last winter through Tourniquet, where three weeks ago an avalanche overwhelmed a diligence.

Geneva, March 2.—Relations between the old international Red Cross and the new league of Red Cross societies are very cordial said Gustave Ador, former president of Switzerland in addressing the Red Cross Congress at its opening meeting here today.

M. Ador, who is chairman of the International Red Cross Committee promised fullest co-operation in behalf of the International Red Cross and alluded to the powerful resources at the disposal of the league and its practical program of work.

Major General Sir David Henderson former director general of Military Aeronautics in the British Army and now director general of the league, announced in submitting his report, that the American and Italian delegations had worked out independently of each other, complete plans for relief work in Russia.

Twenty-seven states were represented at today's meeting.

Transport Returns Yanks Who Were Held By Germans

New York, March 2.—Colonel William N. Hensley, Jr., the American army aviation officer who flew to England last July on the British dirigible, R-4 turned to the United States today on the transport Northern Pacific. Colonel Hensley, who afterward went to Germany to study Zeppelins, came back as commander of Casual detachment No. 6 which included a number of officers and eight men who had been held in German prison camps.

Colonel Hensley predicted that in the future dirigibles would be an important means of travel. He was much impressed by the comparative comfort of journey in aircraft. A passenger, he said, escapes the roll and pitch of a ship. It soon will be possible, he believes, to leave Chicago or St. Louis in the afternoon and land in Cuba the next day.

Even Hated Turks Against Bolshevism

Constantinople, Friday, Feb. 20.—(By Mtl)—Bolshevism is denounced in a statement by the Central committee of Moslem theological academics, it being described as a "danger that threatens civilization, justice and right."

"The attention of statesmen who are deciding the destinies of nations is at present engaged chiefly with the question of Bolshevism," the statement says. "Be the principles of Bolshevism good or evil the fact is that their application is harmful to humanity. The social life of the individual and the rights of property make it impossible for the principles of Bolshevism to conform to the principles of Islam."

"Islam requires happiness, tranquility and general progress and therefore it forbids taking the life or property of another, and most emphatically ensures the rights of individuals and communities. The attitude of Islam may be summed up by saying it is the duty of the Khalifat, in the interest of the Moslem religion to oppose Bolshevism as a danger that threatens civilization, justice and right."
